Items of Local Interest Gathered From Many Sources During the Past Week

The Imperial Oil Company is putting in a plant at Saskatoon.

Reports from Irma state that considerable grain is being received at the elevator at that point.

F. H. Schooley, formerly editor of the Lacombe Advertiser will start a paper at Stony Plains.

Yard Foreman Dunneigan has arrived from Melville with the material gang and will likely be stationed here this winter.

Four carloads of grain were shipped from Richardson & Son's elevator here on Thursday last. Three of the cars were filled with wheat and one with oats.

The young bachelors of Irma held a very successful ball on Friday night last week. The attendance was large and one of the most successful affairs of the kind ever held.

It has been announced that the Alberta Parliament will meet during January. The Municipalities Act will be the most important part of the session's work.

P. E. Ross, of the Pioneer Hardware Store, who has been on a holiday trip to his old home at Carnduff, and also Winnipeg, returned on Thursday evening last week.

The Dominion government will construct a floating dock at a cost of $1,500,000 at Prince Rupert, is the statement made by Wm. Wainwright, second vice-president of the G. T. P.

Several new business houses will be erected at Irma shortly. It will soon become a very important point if the growth of the past few months is continued. The residents look for a big improvement now that the G. T. P. has commenced their passenger service through from Wainwright to Edmonton.

Are we to have a skating rink this winter? This is a matter which should be attended to at once. The fire brigade has already organized a hockey team and with the fine material here this year there should be no difficulty in forming a couple of other aggregations.

The ladies of the Gilt Edge school district have purchased an organ for the school building at that point. Mesdames Wilhelm, Plaxton and Balmer were the committee which purchased the same and after a careful selection have decided to buy an Estey organ from the local agent.

The first heavy snow storm of the season arrived on Thursday of last week and as a result several inches of the beautiful flurries on the ground. The wagon has almost disappeared from the trails and things are beginning to take on a wintry tinge.

Business has been very brisk, and the farmers are hauling their grain into the elevator in considerable quantities. It is expected that several carloads of wheat will be shipped from this point during the coming week. The receipts of grain have also been very heavy at Edgerton and this town will have to hustle to hold first place as the largest grain shipping point in this section. A large number of the farmers are holding their grain this year, and as a consequence shipment are not as heavy as at first expected.

C. G. Wingard arrived from the coast on Thursday night accompanied by his bride.

Mrs. (Rev.) T. W. Bateman returned on Tuesday last from Edmonton, where she was undergoing medical treatment.

A. E. Duff, district passenger agent, of the G. T. P., was in town on Tuesday, coming in on the first regular train from the west.

The Grand Trunk are receiving material here every day for the continuation of their line to the coast. We have heard that 4000 tons of steel are due here as also are 20,000 tons of spikes and bolts.

Chas. H. Burton, of Edgerton, the president of the Eastern Alberta Hockey Association, was a visitor to town this week. While here Mr. Burton made arrangements for the holding of the annual meeting and election of officers of the league. Some definite action can now be taken as the G. T. P. have started their service to the west and Irma and other western points will likely have delegates at the meeting.

The inquiry into the cause of the big fire lately at Viking which was the result of immense loss of property to the farmers in the area from Viking to Vegreville and in which one little girl lost her life, resulted in a case of prosecution against the section men of the G. T. P. at Viking. They were found guilty and fined $100 and costs.

J. E. Duhymple, assistant freight traffic manager of the G. T. P., and R. C. W. Lett, assistant passenger and colonization agent of the same road were in town on Saturday evening. They were accompanied by Jas. Carruthers, the well known elevator man of Montreal, and his son, George, of Winnipeg; A. R. Hargraves, grain exporter, of Winnipeg; and T. P. Phelan, of Toronto, president of the Canada Railway News Co. These gentlemen were on a tour of the country along the line of the Grand Trunk Pacific.

Sitting of District Court

First Sitting Will Be Held In Wainwright On Tuesday, Dec. 7th.--Several Cases.

Word has been received by H. Y. Pawling, from the Hon. Chas. W. Cross, stating that a sitting of the District Court would be held here on Tuesday, Dec. 7th.

This will be a very welcome news for the residents of the town and district, who were compelled to attend court at Vegreville previously. We understand several cases will be on the docket at the first sitting of the court.

The last issue of the Alberta Gazette contains notice of the erection of four new school districts. In the same issue eleven school districts are empowered to borrow money for the erection of new school houses, etc.

The City of Edmonton has forwarded a cheque for $100,000 to the Grand Trunk Pacific, being payment of bonus promised by them toward a station site in that city. As the company have complied with certain conditions the above payment was made.

H. Y. Pawling, president of the Battle River Liberal Association has received word from Hon. C. W. Cross, of the Provincial Government, stating that a sum of money will be placed in the estimates at the coming session of the House for the construction of a bridge over the Battle River north-west of the town for the convenience of the settlers living in that section. This bridge will be a great benefit to the town and the district affected as it will mean a saving of a good many miles to the settlers and will be responsible for a large number of the farmers doing their business in Wainwright.

A. S. Shandra, of Shandra, a homestead inspector, is at present on a tour through the surrounding districts which suffered from prairie fires the past season. Mr. Shandra arrived in town last week and when seen by the STAR in reference to the loss in the surrounding country, stated that the reports had been greatly exaggerated as in all his journey he had only seen six cases of actual suffering through prairie fire losses. The fires covered a great deal of the country, but the losses in most cases are very slight. He was not sure what form the relief given by the Department of the Interior would take, but thought it would be found satisfactory by the fire sufferers.

We have just received a copy of the first issue of the Ryley Times, the latest addition to the ranks of Alberta journals. It is a neat little four page paper, all home print, and it will certainly keep the town of Ryley hustling to catch up to the Times. Leslie Archer, an old time friend and fellow workman of the editor of the STAR, is the man who is responsible for the appearance of the new paper. We wish Leslie every success in his venture. The issue is devoted mainly to a very clever and readable write-up of the town and district and if the country up that way is anything like the description, we are going to lose no time in looking it over, for it must be a veritable paradise. As editors do not lie the write-up must be correct.

E. A. H. A. Meeting

Will Be Held Here On Nov. 30--The League May Be Extended This Season.

Chas. H. Barton, president of the Eastern Alberta Hockey Association, has issued a call for a general meeting of the league, to be held in the office of the secretary-treasurer, W. A. Watson, M. D., at Wainwright on Tuesday evening, Nov. 30, at 8.30 p. m., for the purpose of discussing the advisability of extending the league and arranging the schedule for the coming season. Each team is entitled to two delegates. W. A. Watson and W. J. Musson will represent the town team, while W. E. Washburn and H. E. Laird will look after the interests of the fire brigade hockey team. It is not known yet who will be the representatives of the other teams in the league, as the credentials have not yet been received.

Much sympathy is felt for Mr. Gallinger, over the unfortunate ending to his short married life.

The accused woman, who is 28 years of age did not seem to realize the seriousness of the charge against her and in her evidence told a moving story of her life which she claimed Wilson had inflicted upon her. She stated that on one occasion in Manitoba where they were residing, she was compelled to call for protection, but when the magistrate appeared she forgave her husband and continued to live with him.

The hearing of the case will likely come up at the next sitting of the Supreme Court at Waskiwin.

Park Hotel Opening

Proprietor Is Host At Splendid Dance--Large Crowd Present--A Fine Building.

The new Park Hotel was opened on Monday evening last, when Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Hussey were the hosts at a very pleasant dance given in honor of the occasion. A large number of the townspeople were present and tripped the light fantastic until a late hour. O'Reilly's orchestra furnished the music. The dance was held in the spacious dining room.

At midnight a bountiful supper was served to guests. The gathering broke up about two o'clock with three hearty cheers for the host and hostess.

Richard Aykroyd, accompanied by his family, left for Edinburgh, Scotland, on Monday, where he will be engaged in immigration work for the government for the next few months.

Facing Very Serious Charge

Woman, who Recently Married Young Man of Town Committed for Trial.

Yesterday morning the woman who married Wm. A. Gallinger on October 28, under the name of Helen McGregor, was arrested on a charge of bigamy preferred by R. G. Wilson, of Fort William, formerly of Scotland, who claimed that she married him on October 6th, 1899, at Kilsyth, Stirlingshire, Scotland, under the name of Christina Sterling, and had borne him six children, of whom three are living at the present time, being at the home of Mr. Wilson, in Scotland. The accused had deserted him at Rivers, Man., about July 20th, 1909.

The case was called for yesterday afternoon, but was postponed owing to the accused not being in condition to attend court. She appeared before Justices Gregory and Limpert this afternoon.

After the evidence had been taken, the accused was cross-examined by Constable Walliker, R. N. W. M. P., and admitted that the man Wilson was her lawfully wedded husband and that she had borne him six children, three of whom were living.

After the evidence was all received and reviewed by the Justices, the accused woman was committed to Fort Saskatchewan to stand her trial on the above serious charge.

Owing to the illness of Mrs. Wilson, alias Gallinger, the court was held behind closed doors, only the press being allowed to be present at the sitting.

Another Fire Alarm

Wm. Hossack's Shack Burned Yesterday Morning--The Brigade Does Good Work

The fire brigade received a call on Wednesday morning to fire which had sprung up in the shack on on Third Avenue, owned by W. Hossack. The flames had secured a good start before the alarm was rung in and the brigade were unable to save more than the shell of the building, but were successful in saving some of the effects. The loss will be in the neighborhood of $150.

This is the second fire that Mr. Hossack has suffered from this year, his stable on his homestead having been burned during the prairie fires in the fall. He has asked THE STAR to thank the members of the brigade for the fine manner in which they responded to the alarm.

H. V. Fieldhouse, Mayor Dawson, T. G. Cook and E. Moffatt are in Edmonton at present.

Yesterday afternoon W. J. Rooney, general foreman of the G.T.P. telegraph department, and P. J. Croken, elected a granite shaft over the grave of Joseph Wilson, who was killed while performing his duties as a member of Mr. Rooney's gang on July 14th last. The fellow employees subscribed the sum of $175 for the purpose of erecting a memorial for their comrade. This is the first shaft to be erected in the Wainwright cemetery.

H. H. Vibert, of Montreal, was renewing acquaintances in the town this week.

J. J. McDiarmid, coal contractor of the G. T. P., spent several days in the town this week.

What might have developed into a serious fire was discovered in the residence of Rev. R. Alderson, on Saturday. Peter Devan discovered smoke pouring from the building. He secured help and after a few minutes hard fighting the flames were quenched. Rev. Alderson was in town during the progress of the fire and was not aware of the narrow escape of his building until his return. The damage was slight.

District Deputy Grand Chancellor Stimpson, of the local lodge, Knights of Pythias, was in Ryley this week attending the installation of a lodge of the order at that place. He reports having a very pleasant time in the western town. After the institution of the lodge which was done by the Tofield rank team the visitors were entertained to a splendid banquet.

This is beautiful winter weather.

Wainwright is very fortunate in having three trains a day.

A large number of passengers went west on the first train to Edmonton on Monday morning.

The Pierrots Concert

Fine Performance Given in Auditorium on Tuesday Night, Before Packed House.

The Wainwright Pierrots concert was held on Tuesday evening before a crowded house and was a grand success. The many different items on the programme were well rendered and greatly appreciated by the audience, who rewarded the fine work of the young people taking part, with enthusiastic applause.

The first item on the programme was an Irish character song, rendered by M. G. Cardell, who was all to the good in his portrayal of the traditional stage Irishman.

A fine portion of the entertainment was the different drills and selections by the boys of the party. "The Boys of the Chelms School" as sung by H. C. King, accompanied by a drill given by Masters C. Forster, R. Forster, Murray Pawling, Harry King, Horace King and W. King, brought down the house. A King danced the Sailor's Hornpipe in a splendid manner.

After the individual numbers on the programme the concert party appeared on the platform dressed in the well known French Pierrots costume. The make up of the different performers was excellent and reflects great credit on the manager of the entertainment.

Splendid solos were rendered by Misses Ethel Mott, Baldwin and Bessie Anderson, and Messrs. King and McPhee, with choruses by the concert party. The excellent manner in which the ladies and gentlemen handled themselves on the stage was a revelation to those who went to criticise. In our opinion it would be impossible to find a better lot of amateur performers than H. C. King and the stage on Tuesday night.

Charlie Bowsher assisted by H. and T. Crampton gave a fine exhibition of contortions work and was very well received by the audience, his stunt being one of the best items on the programme.

Verne Graham and C. Bowsher were very funny as the end men of the party and got off many good cracks at the expense of the well known residents of the town.

A. E. Mills' "Conjugling" feats were well received.

The concert was a fine success financially and as a result the Church of England has greatly benefited.

Wainwright should congratulate herself on having in her midst such a painstaking instructor as Mr. King and many thanks are due him for the trouble he has taken in making the concert such a splendid success, also to the different ones taking part.

Previous to the close of the entertainment the members of the company presented Miss Minnie Musson with a splendid travelling case as a token of their appreciation of her services during the rehearsals and the concert.

W. J. Musson is confined to the house at present.

Remember the masquerade ball to be given in the Auditorium on Dec. 3.

F. M. Johnston, representing the Edmonton Journal, was in the town this week.

Archibald Watt, formerly Grand Trunk Pacific locomotive foreman at this place, but later of Edmonton, was renewing acquaintances in the town this week.

A Sermon to Masons

Below we publish the balance of the sermon delivered by Rev. R. Alderson, of the Church of England, recently, on the occasion of the Masonic church parade.

And although that Light has been burning in its radiance for so many centuries, its power is not limited or diminished, but its life-giving truths are still being disseminated in the temple of men, who are gradually and surely being moulded into a tabernacle and kingdom in which Christ shall reign from the centre to the circumference.

We may therefore conclude this head with the words of Milton, of which Masons and all will see the force and application:—

"He that hath this light within his own clear breast.

May sit in the centre and enjoy bright day.

But he that hides a dark soul and foul thoughts,

Benighted, walks under the mid-day sun,

Himself in his own dungeon."

The next point of our observation naturally follows the foregoing, that is, if Christ be the centre of the universe and as such the source of all light and knowledge to men, then He must also be the topstone of our highest ideals. If He be the centre, to whom all things converge, and from whom all lines of morality and virtue must be drawn, then shall not our Masonic principles and symbolism find a perfect and complete interpretation in that "Light of Ages?" Let us recall some features of His character, which exemplify the true spirit of Masonry in the highest degree, viz.—He had the courage of His convictions, and condemned hypocrisy and cant, no matter what garb, or office of church or society it assumed. He did not condemn the poor because they were poor, nor the rich, because they were rich, but gilded transgression and injustice received from Him their merited censure. Without distinction of class or caste, He too maintained the common brotherhood of men and His judgements were always moral and just. He raised the standard of morality by which an ideal relation might be sustained between God and man in Righteousness, Brotherly Love, Relief and Truth. He is "The Man" amongst men, and only Perfect Model for every true mason and all men. For no moral coward can be a Mason.

If Free-Masonry be not a religion, it is a true soil out of which it may grow. No Atheist or person who does not recognize moral relations, with the Supreme Moral Governor of the universe can ever hope to be numbered in that society of men, whose trust in God is a sincere confession, the volume of Revealed Truth, their practical guide and foundation of all ascending steps, in the pursuit of knowledge and proficiency in the science of our craft, without which, light in our lodge rooms would be impossible. Indeed it is axiom of truth, that all true manliness and virtue rests in our acknowledgement of Divine authority and perfection of character, vested in the Centre and source of all Revelation.

Christ fulfills our Masonic Ideals of Brotherliness.

As no thistle can be a rose, nor a thorn a fig tree; so no Mason can be mean or uncharitable. Masons truly are men. But they are more—they are brothers. It is much to refrain "from revengeful retaliation for injuries we receive from others."

It is far more, as our Great Master has shown us to help each other with loving brotherliness. Christ taught the world that goodness is not only negative, "Thou shalt not do this," but positive, "Thou shalt love."

This does not however mean that all men are to be equally alike to us. The value of any man must of course be estimated at his moral worth, but those we regard as our friends ought to receive special attachment.

If we therefore have acquired such as deserve the name of friend and brother in our conduct towards them, we shall do well to act on the lines of Shakespeare:

"Be thou familiar, but by no means vulgar."

The friends thou hast, and their adoption tried;

Grapple them to thy soul with hoops of steel;

But do not dull thy palm with every new-hatched, unfledged comrade."

This above all, to thine own self be true,

And it must follow, as the night the day,

Thou canst not then be false to any man."

It is in the exercise of this Christ-like brotherliness that Masonry is promoting human progress, and a universally recognized kinship; that is to say the time when "man to man, the world o'er, shall brothers be."

This noble virtue however will find its widest scope and purest channels in that Divine Society founded on earth by its Great Centre, because the Church of Christ, being Catholic is destined to encircle the radius of all men in a universal brotherhood. Therefore every mason will be benefitted by becoming true Christians and loyal churchmen, in respect of true brotherliness.

Christ is also the Pledge of man's immortality. Our Order derives its dignity from the principles of Immortality which it inculcates. We are not only creatures of the dust and subject to the conditions and laws of Mortality, but we sustain an affinity in our spirits, to the God "Who gave Them," and as Christ shows us we are heirs of Immortality. The Star in the East not only to those wise Magi, but to us, brings hope and promise of eternal life. Only however by the operation of those perfect points of Masonic Art that are given to us by our Grand and Divine Master; shall we be able to see beyond the symbols of change, decay, and mortality, and be raised to a life incorruptible and immortal.

Every true mason who has advanced in practice and science of his craft, embraces the sprig of Immortality that is inherent in Jesus Christ: God's pledge and assurance of man's resurrection to a better life.

Masonry carves out truth in God—lives in peace and fraternal love, and diffuses the light of life from her altars. In her walls, temples and shrines the Logos of Christianity is nursed, and taught, because Christ alone "has brought life and immortality to light" by His gospel. For He is the first fruits, the only one who can say "I am He that liveth and was dead, behold I am alive for evermore and have the keys of Hades, (the place of departed spirits)." He is therefore the pledge of man's immortality.

It is the duty of Masons to build. We have got a glimpse of the Grand Geometrical mode of raising humanity to its full standard in Christ. We each must rear a Temple measured by the square rule of Morality and Truth. Let us then apply ourselves with diligence, and in order that a perfect structure may be built, take care that all plumb line measurements are taken from That Great Centre. Stability will characterize our actions as the great pillars and columns that support them are founded in the strength of moral conduct and our minds are assured that the Great Architect will establish our life and character.

Masonry teaches us to retain the moral influences of a new life. She bids us advance in knowledge and as we seek to add to our store, we shall lose none of our interest in the hidden mysteries contained in our peculiar objects of our research. We shall earnestly seek to gather the spiritual meaning of those symbols that are contained in the whole realm of nature.

COMMENT

This is beautiful winter weather.

Canadian Journalism loses one of its most distinguished figures in the retirement of Prof. Goldwin Smith. He has been a strong factor to be reckoned with whenever any action was taken by either of the governing bodies, which affected the interests of the Dominion. His place will be difficult to fill.

The Dominion Parliament has got down to work in a way which should be very satisfactory to the electors. During the present session several acts will be introduced in the house which will be of great interest to the electors of Western Canada. The actions of the new member for Strathcona constituency will be closely watched by the residents of this constituency.

The announcement in another part of the paper that a bridge would be built across the Battle River northwest of the town will make pleasant reading for the residents of the portion affected. For some time now they have been clamoring for a better means of communication between Wainwright and Paradise Valley and their hopes will no doubt be realized before the high water in the spring, at which period it has been almost impossible to reach the town from this section.

Another step was made in the advancement of the province of Alberta on Monday last, when the Grand Trunk Pacific commenced a passenger service to the capital city, from Wainwright. Things like this are attracting the attention of the older parts of the Dominion, and bringing to them a realization of the fact that this province is now past the primitive period and will soon take her place among the older provinces. It will not be many years at the rate the west is growing, till the larger part of the representation in the Dominion house comes from the new portions of the country. Watch the province grow—and see Wainwright keep in the front of the other young towns of Alberta.

The time is fast approaching when the ratepayers will be called upon to select men to handle the affairs of the village for the next year. Up to the present very little interest has been taken in this matter and it is certainly up to the ratepayers to show a little more interest in the welfare of the town than they have done in the past. Wainwright is growing very fast and the government of the town should be in the hands of responsible men as it would be a serious drawback if the affairs of the village are not handled in a business like manner. It has been suggested by several of the ratepayers that the present council should be returned to power by acclamation but the general impression seems to be that the annual report of the transactions of the present council should be submitted to the ratepayers before any movement to this end is taken. However it will only be a short time till the matter has to be settled one way or another and it behooves us to look into this matter at once.

A Sermon to Masons

The Tools of our noble Art will quarry Her treasured secrets and extract the mystery of their meaning.

As we apply these Truths to build our lives merit will receive such reward, ill compared to spoils of greed, or pleasures of wickedness.

If we determine to build under the direction of a Master, Whose standard measures and plans are geometrically perfect, and incapable of error; then there will be no room in Free-masonry for moral weaknesses, without stamina or backbone, ready to swim always with the popular current, "Vox Populi" is not always identical with "Vox Dei" There is no room in Masonry for those who do not prize Temperance, Purity and Chastity. Craftsmen are demanded who shall be upright, sober, moral and God fearing men. Hence it is that no place is found for those who put money before honor, self before charity, or who in general "love darkness rather than light" But Free-masonry in its positive aspect, is progressive and practical, true to the traditions of her past, the principles and landmarks she now upholds, in accordance with the Plan of the Grand Architect of the universe. Everyone must be cut and made square by the rule of life and conduct. Masonic character is rectangular.

The spotless badge we first received will never disgrace us if we do not soil it, and remember the warning of the Warden As brethren, in our convention we shall feel increasingly how sorry it is to meet, sorry to part, happy to meet again. In the faithful discharge of our duties there will finally be a reward for each in the chamber of the Great King. According as we build, help others to know truth and advance to the Great Centre of Light and Life; so shall we ascend the Ladder of the nobler science of morality, aided by Faith, Hope, and Charity. In fact, if you forget all else in this address, save its five points or parts, namely:— I. God has a Plan of the universe.

II. It centres in Christ.

III. As Centre He is source of all True Light and Knowledge.

IV. He is fulfillment of our highest ideals. V. Pledge of our Immortality.

Then these solid foundation truths will enable us to raise a structure of sculptured beauty a Temple in which Christ will be its energy and Centre, and when the greatest secret of all is disclosed to accepted and Worthy Masons, we shall find it is that of a perfect communion and fellowship with Him who is "The Alpha and Omega, the first and the last the beginning and the end."

A TALE OF A SPOTTED DOG
A small Kansas boy was once called in to view his new born baby brother. He looked it over with disinterest, and finally asked— "Mamma, where did this thing come from?" "Well, then, mamma, all that I have got to say is that you are dead." "At least to see any old man put such a looking thing on me. But I reckon we are stuck unless I kin work J. J. Green to trade it for a dog—just for one of his spotted pups."

Wainwright is very fortunate in having three trains a day.

A large number of passengers went west on the first train to Edmonton on Monday morning.

The Stutz Theatre Company wound up their engagement on Saturday evening last, when they presented that well known English play, "One of the Family" to a large and appreciative audience. After the show on Friday night, the Morrison Orchestra gave a very pleasant dance in the Opera House. The Stutz Company left on Sunday morning for Hardisty where they took the train for Camrose, to fill an engagement at that point. If this company ever return to Wainwright, they may be sure of receiving a hearty welcome.
